BOOK CLUB ACTIVITIES

Create Another Time

- What did people do before electronics? Try to spend an entire hour (or even a day!) without using any electronic devices or the TV. See the ideas below.
- Invent a game that you can play using only ordinary objects. Not great at inventing? Research the game Mancala (the African Stone game). It is a simple game that can be played using rocks and an old egg carton.
- Create a time capsule to tell people in the future, your history.
- People have been making music since the dawn of time, and music doesn't need to be complicated. Music can come from simply combining beats using everyday objects. Watch the video "Cups" by Anna Kendrick, and see how she whiles away her time, waiting for biscuits to bake, by creating a fun songs with simple beats. What music can you make using only your voice and the tapping of various surfaces? For more inspiration, you may want to look up beat-boxers, throat singers, and tap dancers - they all use their bodies to create interesting sounds and beats.

Joke of the Month

Why was the broom late?

Answer: It over-swept!
